

Hello Madison Park Tree customers:

Last year I began a search to find a company to take over my business. After 20+ years in business I have developed great working relationships with many of you, and trust is a key part of that. Knowing that you will be treated fairly, that we understand your goals, and that you can count on Todd and Jose to take excellent care of your trees has kept many of you coming back. So it was imperative that when I began to look for someone to take over Madison Park Tree that they be able to meet these standards for a seamless transition.

I built my company on providing tree care that balances the needs of the customer with what is best for their trees, doing the work at a fair price, providing responsive customer service, and paying my employees well. Based upon the number of repeat customers I think I did a pretty good job of meeting those goals.

I was fortunate early in this process to connect with Allen Taylor who runs Conservation Tree Care. Over time I realized Allen shares the same vision and goals as I do, and that this would be a great match, indeed even an upgrade, for Madison Park Tree customers. Allen is a Board Certified Master Arborist, a higher level of credentials than I possess, and his attention to safety is unparalleled. Like myself he is a member of Plant Amnesty, holding himself to the same high standards that I do, and volunteering his time with them. Think of him as a younger, more ambitious, bearded version of me, whose bids will be easier to read.

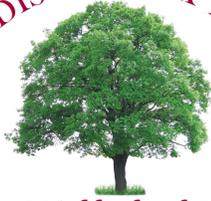

My last day will be at the end of June, but Todd and Jose plan to continue with Allen, so you won't see much change on your end.

I have enjoyed getting to know many of you over the years and appreciate your trust in myself, Todd, and Jose with your tree care.

Peace

Mark

I am very honored that Mark considered myself and Conservation Tree Care as a candidate to take over the operations of Madison Park Tree Care. I started my business four years ago with the goal of providing high quality environmentally conscious tree care. We are a small company based in South Seattle with a full time operations manager and three arborists in the field. After spending time with Mark, Todd, and Jose I found so many similarities between the approaches of our two firms that a merger really started to make sense.

It has been an honor working with Mark and my goal in taking over the day-to-day operations of Madison Park Tree is to provide the same great personalized service Mark has for so many years. I am thrilled that Todd and Jose will be continuing on with us and look forward to working with them. The only real changes you should notice is my fresh face at initial site visits and a few administrative and technological improvements. My great crew of arborists will also be at Todd and Jose's disposal when they need a little help on larger projects.

We look forward to working with your trees! Please give us a call or write us an email if you could use any help with them. Madison Park's phone number, email address, and website will all remain active so feel free to reach out that way as well.
